

Leather that laughs at Mother Nature and simply ignores Father Time.

DuPont is a catalyst for innovation. Every day, we provide customized solutions needed to solve problems and create new opportunities.

Introducing DuPont™ Hydrology™ leather tanning science.

This remarkable, new leather tanning science gives leather extraordinary attributes like weather-resistance, breathability, colorfastness, stain- and soil-resistance and the ability to survive machine washing and drying. Hydrology™ is a complete system that works from the inside out to make leather more durable, versatile and attractive than ever before.

With a history of scientific expertise and dynamic application development, DuPont can help take your products in dramatic new directions.

Our wealth of reliable, safe ingredients provides the raw materials needed for your own exploration and product customization.

And that gives you the freedom to innovate.
